International Network of Health Promoting Hospitals
& Health Services

What you gain from membership:

We've developed standards and tools specifically for hospitals and health services who want to transform their organizations into health-promoting settings.

Gain support from a global network of experts with over 30 years of best practice experience in implementation.

Use our annual International Conference as a forum for learning and exchange.

Access to the HPH eCommunity platform to share and learn from others regarding implementation – view examples of best practice, articles, and other tools and materials to aid you.
